It is safe to say that the average farmer in Vermont makes hay during all his waking hours these days and dreams about it at night. The crop is very heavy and a large amount of whiskey in jars which was brought to Burlington in the sheriff's automobile along with Mr. Braxton. An appeal from the allowance of the will of his father, Henry H. Bradley, has been entered in probate court by Frank M. Bradley. The will was proved and established a few days ago. Henry House was taken back Tuesday night to the industrial school at Vergennes, where he had been an inmate of the school for a long time. The boy is about 17 years of age and it is the custom of the superintendent to allow boys of that age out to work, their wages being deposited to their credit in a savings bank. House took the opportunity to escape and came to the home of his parents on Pine street a few days ago, being located there Tuesday by a member of the police force and Mr. Bars, superintendent of the industrial school.

HAPPENINGS IN VERMONT

grew rich, which started a battle of words that was heard by Deputy Sheriff A. A. Emery at the county courthouse and by everyone in that section of the city. Sheriff Emery went to the place, and restored a semblance of quiet and the women were summoned into court as soon as City Grand Juror Gleason could make out the papers.

Since the announcement was made that Smith S. Ballard is to be a candidate for city representative on the republican ticket, the democrats have been looking over the field for a candidate. There are a number of men mentioned, some of whom have not been approached as yet by their willingness to run. Lynn B. Brooks, Harry C. Shurtliff and Alderman Martin E. McKenna are among those most mentioned. Mr. Brooks has often been approached to run for alderman and last year was talked of strongly for mayor. Mr. Shurtliff has always been looked on in the party and is regarded as well fitted for the office. Alderman McKenna is giving the second ward faithful and intelligent service on the board of aldermen and his familiarity with city affairs would be of service. In the republican party there seems to be little opposition to Mr. Ballard, although the names of L. H. Greene and J. M. Boutwell are talked of in some quarters. Apparently the main fight is coming over the labor vote. Mr. Ballard has stood well with the laboring men of the city and the democrats will probably put up a man who is well regarded by them as the vote controlled by the laboring class is almost decisive in the city.

John Guerin was operated on at Heaton hospital Tuesday for the removal of cinders and grit from his face. He is employed as a brakeman on the Central Vermont railway and while jumping from a train at Northfield Sunday he plunged head first to the ground, filling his face with cinders.

BARRE.

Judge Scott had a busy session in city court Monday, following several raids made Saturday and Sunday in which several seizures of liquor were made. Lull Gallagher pleaded guilty to intoxication and was fined $15 and costs. Being in the habitual class, he was asked to disclose and this resulted in a raid on the Granite Street house occupied by Mrs. Clara Caro and her children. They will be arraigned later on charges of selling, although no liquor was found. Saturday afternoon 22 gallons and 11 bottles of beer were seized at No. 2 Columbia place. A. L. Foster, a Graniteville liveyman, waived examination and was bound over to county court in Barre on a charge of selling.

Albert Longchamps of the same place was also bound over in $500 on the same charge. Mrs. Sam Currier of Websterville, at whose place considerable ale was found, had her case continued two weeks. Mrs. Currier has five children and says the overseer of the poor of the town of Barre has refused to aid her so that she was obliged to sell liquor to keep herself and her children from starving.

WINDSOR COUNTY.

W. O. Bailey has moved his household goods from Windsor to the upper part of E. D. Gibson's house on Church street, where his family will live. Miss Ethel Bruce went Saturday to visit in Bolton. Herbert Huber of New York, formerly of this place, is visiting at Mrs. Josephine French's. He was employed as a clerk at the Columbia hotel, at the time of the great fire of July 9 at Thousand Island Park. He found himself locked in the kitchen with the flames gradually spreading inward and as the only means of escape he tore open a screen and jumped out to safety. The Watertown, N. Y. Times of July 11 says that Huber worked hard in his efforts to save the possessions of the guests of the hotel, utterly forgetful of his own welfare. All his belongings were destroyed, but he saved the effects of most of the guests.

ANOTHER STATION PLAN.

Rutland Railroad Company Submits One with Radical Street Changes.

The committee of fifteen yesterday afternoon looked over a new plan for a union station in Burlington, submitted by the Rutland Railroad company. The plan is drawn to a certain extent to fit the alignment of the Sinclair plan which will be recalled, proposes to extend the main line tracks to the east, cutting into Battery street, the station to be built at the foot of Main street, west of the tracks and to be reached by an overpass over the tracks over an avenue and descending to the level along the lake front north and south by means of inclined roadways. King street would be left at grade. The Rutland plan places the tracks 60 feet farther west than the Sinclair plan and the members of the committee who viewed the plan last evening were not so much pleased with it as with the Sinclair plan. The next hearing on the union station project will be held August 6. The estimated cost of the Rutland plan is $20,000.

ANOTHER BOY THIEF.

Octave Cavillon, Jr., sent to Industrial School for Seven Years.

Another of the boy thieves, who have been operating in Burlington during the past few days, was caught yesterday, when Octave Cavillon, Jr., was arrested for the theft of $5 from the store of George Poulas on King street near Battery street. Cavillon will spend the remainder of his minority in the industrial school and as he is but 14 years of age, his sentence will not expire until February of the year 1915.

The money was stolen from the money drawer of the store when Poulas was out on the sidewalk. Poulas, as soon as he learned of the theft, offered two dollars for the return of the money and was not long before Cavillon appeared with the entire amount and claimed the reward. This aroused suspicion and, upon being notified, the police quickly connected the boy with the robbery and arrested him yesterday afternoon. It was ascertained that the boy had concealed the money in a garden immediately upon stealing it and had dug it up to get the reward.

In the hearing which followed before Acting City Judge J. P. Ladd Cavillon pleaded not guilty, but the evidence was strongly against him and he was convicted. The police also learned that the boy had recently stolen ten dollars from his father.

This is the fifth arrest of minors made during the past week for larceny. The others were two Martin boys, and two by the name of Lavoie and Douglas. It is not known that Cavillon was associated with the others in their ventures.

The Vermont National Guard will mobilize on the state grounds at Fort Ethan Allen on Sunday, August 4, and will remain in camp till August 5.

RUPTURED BLOOD VESSEL.

Autopsy Reveals Cause of Francis Dennis' Death, Following Altercation.

It is probable that as a result of the inquest and official autopsy in the case of Francis Dennis, whose death occurred in Winslow Sunday night, Noel Guillette, with whom Dennis had an altercation, will be charged with manslaughter by State's Attorney H. B. Shaw, the warrant being returnable before the Winslow municipal court. Here the respondent has the opportunity for a preliminary hearing or of waiving examination and being bound over to await the action of the grand jury at the September term of county court. From what can be learned of the case the two men had a quarrel and Dennis made a demonstration which Guillette interpreted as an attempt to strike him. He thereupon struck Dennis and the latter fell to the sidewalk. The official report on the autopsy disclosed the fact that Dennis died from the effect of a ruptured blood vessel in the brain.

Guillette is of slight build and scarcely more than a boy, and if the case comes to a Chittenden county jury some fine points may be raised as to the cause of death.
